Corner of Second and Morrison Streets
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.
Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling invented by H. H. Hoagland we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.
It fastens without bolt or screw and is therefore easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs the settlers [illegible]. It is easily [illegible] that the shafts or tongue may be detached [illegible] instant and is convenient safe and secure.
It is easy to change this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use [illegible]. We have come to the conclusion to use the new invention ourselves [illegible] Brewster Patent heretofore considered the best in use.

EASTERN DATES TO AUGUST 9.

BY THE CABLES

Dispatches From Paris

PARIS August 9.—Minister Washburne was received by the Emperor for the purpose of delivering the reply of President Grant to the letter recalling Minister Berthemy.

The following report was telegraphed from Metz yesterday at 10 1/2 A. M.: The corps of Gen Faillee which was not engaged in the recent actions is the rallying point of the army. It has not been disturbed. McMahon has executed the movements prescribed for him.

There is great activity in enrolling volunteers in all parts of the city. 18,000 workmen are strengthening the fortifications assisted by 20,000 sailors.

PARIS August 9—Evening.—The Corps Legislatif met to-day at one o'clock. Groups formed before the Hall which grew greater every moment and soon there were more than 10,000 persons assembled. There were loud cries of "Vive Changarnier" and "Vive la France" and shouts were heard of "Vive Rochefort" from the electors of Bellville. At two o'clock the troops of the line ranged around the Hall as also a squadron of cavalry. They were received by the crowd with cries of "To the frontier!" "To the frontier!" The cavalry at once broke into a trot along the street and the crowd withdrew again shouting. The scene in the Corps Legislatif was one of turbulence and almost violence. Ollivier has resigned and Gen Palikao has been charged with the duty of forming a new Ministry.

News from Prussian Sources

LONDON August 9.—Dispatches from Carlsruhe to-day state that Strasbourg is surrounded by 60,000 troops, mostly South Germans and must surrender.

The advance of the Prussians from Saarlouis and Treves has commenced. It is supposed that Prince Frederick Charles is in command and an immediate attack will be made on Metz.

Revolutionary Rumors—The French Forces

LONDON August 9.—The Pall Mall Gazette has learned from private parties in Paris that the Empire is on the verge of collapse. The Germans are expected in Paris even if they are arrested. The Empire is dead. The Parisians are receiving arms and they are all republicans at heart. The establishment of a provisional government is already talked of. The Orleanists are in the ascendant, and eminent Imperialists are leaving Paris and France.

Authentic advices from France state that Marshal Bazaine, Commander in Chief has 120,000 men at Metz. McMahon 50,000 at Saverne, and Canrobert 50,000 at Nancy. A rumor has reached here that the Prussians are at Muhlausen sixty one miles from Strasbourg.

METZ, August 9.—The enemy is in a large measure concentrated in front of Metz. Marshal Bazaine has direction of operations. The Emperor has just gone to the general headquarters of Marshal Bazaine.

METZ August 9—8 P M.—Changarnier has arrived. Public opinion here receives with favor the advent of Changarnier.

LONDON August 9.—A French fleet of nine iron clads bound east passed Dover to-day.

Dispatch from Athens

ATHENS August 8 via Paris August 9.—The Greek Government refuses to assist the English judges sent here to investigate the circumstances of the massacre of foreigners by Marathon brigands. The British Minister has protested against the action of the Government.

LONDON, August 9.—Late advices from Shanghai report that fears are entertained that there will be another attack on the foreigners at Tientsin and the gunboats there threaten to shell the city.

Alaska Seal Fisheries

WASHINGTON, August 9.—Acting Secretary Richardson has given directions for the present season to the Alaska Commercial Company that they be allowed to take only one half the number of fur seals from the Islands of St George and St Paul being 3,500 from St George and 12,500 from St Paul as there are only two months left of the present season, and the rental of the islands for the present year has been reduced proportionately.

President Grant's Tour

INDIANAPOLIS August 9.—President Grant arrived here by special train to-day proceeding west without detention.

The French Wolf and the Prussian Lamb

The Chicago Republican takes this view of the war:

The aggressive policy of Prussia, so much harped on by the Democratic press of this country consists in efforts to put a stop to French invasions by establishing the unity of Germany. It is the same kind of aggression committed by the lamb in the fable in drinking out of the stream below the wolf who was accused of muddying the water. The lamb was not able to see how the dirty water could run up stream and was at once invaded for his lack of knowledge of French hydrostatics.

Prussian aggression consists in the people of that country minding their own business and letting France alone. But Napoleon sets up in justification that Prussia may get powerful enough to become aggressive and if it does not will at least prevent France from committing aggressions upon it which is not to his liking, and is good ground for war. Uniting Germany into a great compact nation is where the aggression [illegible] makes its [illegible]. The Prussian lamb must not [illegible] from the Rhine for fear it will muddy the wolf's water on the Seine. That is the Bonaparte logic.

THE PRUSSIAN NEEDLE GUN.—[illegible] of 1867 developed in Europe a new and terrible instrument of death known as the needle gun. This celebrated firearm is a [illegible] single-barreled non-revolving rifle. With the [illegible] movement of an appropriate trigger [illegible] of the top of the barrel slides back [illegible] admit the cartridge to be placed in the cavity of the barrel which is done by the [illegible] with his left hand without removing the piece from his shoulder or [illegible] his aim. Another movement restores the [illegible] of the top of the barrel [illegible] firmly fastens it ready for the [illegible]. It can be fired therefore twelve times a minute until the barrel [illegible] the introduction of the cartridge [illegible] friction only and not [illegible] the [illegible] remains in the chamber before firing is but an instant. [illegible] [illegible] lower [illegible] the needle [illegible] actually to pierce the large [illegible] cartridge [illegible] in front [illegible] the [illegible] which the needle strikes [illegible] [illegible] pull [illegible]

[illegible] that the [illegible] [illegible] apply [illegible] the principle [illegible] [illegible] Not [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] low [illegible] very remarkable [illegible] ing cheaper. What [illegible] that accomplishes such results [illegible] Republican.

FOREIGN NOTES

In a state of peace the South German countries have an independent existence but during war they become practically a part of the Prussian power. War then effectively joins South Germany to the North German Union. And this is the reason why war may be regarded without displeasure at Berlin, for when war has once allied these South German States to Prussia we may trust Bismarck that they will never be recovered again.

A native of Rhenish Prussia writes to M. Cassagnac that the German people on the left bank of the Rhine do not desire annexation to France and that before conquering that section the French must destroy the armies and people of the German Confederation. [illegible] M. de Cassagnac replies that there is a chance of only two alternatives—either France will go to the Rhine or Prussia will go to the Pyrenees.

Says the New York Tribune: Our financial interests abroad would suffer infinitely more in case of a German defeat than from any other result of the war. Germany holds according to Secretary Boutwell's estimate nearly a thousand millions of dollars worth of American bonds, and if Germany were prostrated, which could not take place without more than one or two or three battles the small holders of these bonds as well as the speculative holders would be compelled to surrender them. In France on the other hand, no [illegible] amount of our bonds has ever been taken and they are not even quoted on the lists of the Bourse. In this respect, therefore, a French disaster would not affect us while the discomfiture of Germany would cause great derangement and mischief in this country.

The Confederation of North Germany possesses nine strongholds of the first class. They are: On the Rhine Mayence Coblentz Cologne; on the Elbe, Konigstein, Magdebourg; on the Oder Stettin; on the Wartha Posen; near the mouth of the Vistula Dantzick; on the Pregel Konigsberg. All these places are on Prussian ground except Mayence (Hesse) and Konigstein (Saxony). There are fourteen strongholds of the second class: On the river Sarre Saarlouis; on the Rhine Wesel; on the Weser, Minden; on the Gera Erfurt; on the Elbe Torgau; on the Spree Spandau; on the Oder Glogau; on the Neisse, Glatz Neisse; on the Baltic Sonderberg, Duppel, Kiel Friedrichstadt, Stralsund Colberg. The strongholds of the third class are: On the Elbe Wittenberg; on the Oder Kosel Kustrin; on the Vistula, Graudenz; on the Baltic Swinemunde, Pillau. Besides these there are also the following fortified posts. The earthworks about Dresden, the bridge at Dusseldorf the bridge of Mariendburg the bridge of Dirschau, the mouth of the Weser, the fort of Memel.

The Struggle in Europe

FINANCIAL STATUS OF THE BELLIGERENTS

[From the New York Shipping List.]

The financial status of France and Prussia is a matter of considerable consequence just now. The revenue of France last year was in round numbers $410,000,000. She has an immense national debt of $2,700,000,000, requiring $14,000,000 annually to pay the interest. Her resources however are so large that she enjoys excellent credit. Her loans are taken by the people and not by capitalists. The fifth loan for instance issued at 60 francs 30 bearing 3 per cent interest was received with the offer on the part of half a million persons, of 3,45[illegible],000,000 francs, or sixteen times the amount required. The revenue and expenditures of Prussia in time of peace are only about $1[illegible]5,000,000 or not one third of those of France. The debt is trifling for so great a nation being only $158,000,000. The financial credit of Prussia is therefore very high. Should the war be a protracted one the industry of both nations would become seriously crippled from which Great Britain alone would be likely to derive any substantial benefit. The items of gain to the United States from the contest may be readily summed up. They are increased exports of breadstuffs and provisions better employment of shipping and diminished expenses of Americans in Europe. On the contrary we shall probably lose something from lower prices of cotton, petroleum, tobacco and other exportable staples and may suffer some inconvenience in our finances owing to the large amount of American indebtedness to Europe in the shape of Government and corporate securities held there estimated at $1,400,000,000 to say nothing of a large floating debt.

MODERN WAR—THE COMING CARNAGE

[From the Paris Journal des Debats.]

Let us not speak lightly of war, and especially of modern war. Tried soldiers look grave when they speak of the shock of dense masses to be led in a few days to a field of carnage there to make trial of the engines of destruction with which the two belligerent powers are amply provided. The dead will be reckoned by hundreds of thousands and the next day there will be mourning in a million of families. The antique courage of those cavaliers mailed in iron whose lightest exploits were pompously celebrated seems to pale before the resignation of the modern soldier exposed uncovered to the fire of chassepot and mitrailleuse.

There is talk of experiments made within these few days in the environs of Paris with cannon of a new model breech loading and firing forty balls at each discharge. It is the pistol revolver system applied to artillery with this great difference that the projectiles do not follow the one line of fire but form a semi circle. These guns are divided in four sections each portable by one man. They are put together and screwed up tight in three or four minutes. The Prussians also have it seems their revolving gun and their field mitrailleuse. We read that these weapons have been tested and constructed with the greatest secrecy. The place of manufacture was surrounded by a cordon of troops under the most precise orders to repel all curious inquiry.

KING WILLIAM ON WAR WITH FRANCE

[Paris Correspondence London Telegraph.]

It may not be out of season just now to recall to your memory a remark made by King William two years ago at Hamburg to a person with whom he was conversing upon the favorite topic of an eventual war between France and Prussia. "For my part" said His Majesty "I have no desire whatever for war with France so long as the French will not interfere with us in the performance of our great mission—the consolidation of Germany. But if it should ever be necessary to fight France at any time we shall not beat about the bush or act upon the defensive. The first battle will not be fought on Prussian ground—we shall attack with all our strength and in the direction of Paris."

THE WEAPONS OF THE WAR

[From the New York Times.]

In field artillery, the Prussians are well supplied with the Krupp's breech loading steel rifles of all calibers and in this arm are perhaps a little better equipped than the French. Some of our Gatling Battery guns have also been sent to Prussia but we are not sure that any of them have been introduced into their army. The French has doubtless a supply of breech loading cannon but they have been at considerable trouble to conceal the real efficiency of this portion of their armament. From time to time reports have been circulated of the marvelous destructive efficiency of the Mitrailleuse to the perfecting of which Napoleon is said to have devoted much time and money but we doubt if the gun will prove the wonder it is claimed to be. The [illegible] long gun invented in this country [illegible] of the same class as the Mitrailleuse can be made [illegible] [illegible] stream [illegible] whistling [illegible] rank [illegible] but although it has acknowledged merits very few of these guns have as yet been purchased by [illegible] government. It is not to be expected there [illegible] gun which [illegible] [illegible] any important [illegible] field artillery. At the commencement of the rebellion the principal gun in our field artillery [illegible] the light twelve pounder or Napoleon gun [illegible] the number [illegible] cannon [illegible] have since been introduced and thoroughly tested [illegible] to-day [illegible] which is more highly esteemed by our artillerists than this field [illegible]. Judging from our own experience therefore we believe that many of the new weapons which will be put to a practical test in Europe will not prove very far in advance of some more familiar pieces.

[N. Y. Herald.]

WASHINGTON July 24 1870.

The views of a man like Senator Sumner who is thoroughly versed in European politics and high [illegible] upon the impending conflict between Prussia and France are not [illegible] at this time [illegible] called upon the Senator to learn [illegible] course of conversation with him [illegible] the following points. He thinks the war will be a short one and that a few battles will decide the conquest. One week ago yesterday after the late M. Prevost-Paradol [illegible] presented to the President [illegible] called upon Senator Sumner and had an interview of an hour with him. He presented a large number of letters of introduction to Mr Sumner from distinguished Frenchmen. During the interview Mr Sumner inquired how long the war would continue between France and Prussia. To this M. Prevost-Paradol replied that there would be but one or two battles not more than two. He could not tell which would be victorious but the history of modern warfare in Europe showed that there was no longer the old fashioned mode of making war that prevailed in the days of the first Napoleon.

Senator Sumner coincides with M. Paradol in this opinion. He says it is different in Europe to what it is in our country. Take for instance Grant's campaign in the Wilderness in Virginia. The country was new to him and he had to feel his way from day to day. He has no doubt that every inch of the ground on both sides of the Rhine is as familiar to the leaders of the French and Prussian armies as the playground of their boyhood. They had maps of every part of the country, showing every stream and every clump of trees. Mr Sumner thinks that at the first outset the available power of the contending forces will be massed against each other and that the battle will be decisive. Of the result he has no idea but he thinks there never were two men more equally matched in point of diplomacy and State craft than Napoleon and Bismarck. The latter he regards as the real head of the Prussian government and as the power behind the throne greater than the throne itself.

Speaking of Bismarck Mr Sumner said it was a curious fact how intimate Bismarck was with Mr Motley. They were educated together at the college at Gottingen and had been companions in many a lark. On one occasion they were both picked up in the streets at night and locked up by the guard. When Bismarck went to Vienna after the war with Austria as his own Minister the first thing he did was to seek Mr Motley and dine with him informally. At the time this created no little uneasiness in the diplomatic circles of Europe. It was generally regarded as an indication of some alliance between the United States and Prussia but it was nothing more than a renewal of old friendship between two schoolmates. Owing to the probable short period during which the war would continue Mr Sumner has no idea that England will be drawn into it or indeed any other European Powers but France and Prussia. Some of the smaller Powers like Denmark may possibly become involved but Russia England, and even Austria will probably keep clear. If Napoleon is worsted Mr Sumner thinks it will end his dynasty and that his family will become fugitives in Europe just as he himself was before the fall of Louis Philippe. With regard to the United States Mr Sumner thinks that in no event can our country become involved in any of the quarrels of Europe. In this the country will instinctively follow the maxims of Washington, and any President or any statesman who will seek to embroil us in the wars of Europe will eventually sink to oblivion.

The Character of the Prussians as Soldiers.

Mr Edward Dicey lately the editor of the London News and a witness of the strife between Austria and Prussia has written as follows with special reference to the cause which had for the result the Austrian defeat at Sadowa. What he says of the earnest religious character of the Prussians as doing more than the skill of their generals to compel victory will be heard with peculiar attention at this moment:

Without in the least wishing to deny the merits of the Prussian royal generals, who, one and all were brave men and gallant soldiers I think I may assert that success of the campaign was in no sense due to their military abilities. Gens Steinmetz and Herwarth von Bittenfeld had a considerable reputation among their troops but I doubt if either of these had occasion to give proof of first class or even second class military talent. In as far as the credit of the campaign was due to any single person, it was doubtless due to Gen Moltke who from Berlin dictated by telegraph the movements of the Prussian armies.

But still even placing the utmost estimate upon the ability of the princes and the ennobled generals who commanded the Prussian armies it would be the greatest stultification to say that their success was chiefly owing to the military superiority of their commanders. Nor as I have said before do I think undue weight should be placed upon the superiority of the needle-gun. In the first place a very considerable portion of the Prussian army as I can vouch from personal observation was not armed with breech loaders but with the old fashioned muzzle-loading musket. In the second place in many of the engagements in all of which the Prussians proved victorious the [illegible] whether breech loading or muzzle loading [illegible] Both before and since the war Prussian officers [illegible] that the [illegible] was regarded [illegible] arm in the service [illegible] to the circumstance [illegible] war the Prussians were [illegible] employ [illegible] their artillery with the exception of the light field guns. I have [illegible] that the [illegible] of the [illegible] the rapidity with which [illegible] fire [illegible] the [illegible] with which [illegible] this [illegible] to this course [illegible] guns [illegible] itself fail to account for the issue of the campaign.

[illegible] simple [illegible] I take [illegible] that the Prussians [illegible] that the Austrians [illegible] they [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] than their [illegible] they were [illegible] superior [illegible] Prussians and [illegible] arrived [illegible] [illegible] to the [illegible] they knew [illegible] they [illegible] [illegible] they were steady [illegible] God [illegible]

Nothing is gained by [illegible] the contest [illegible] the battle [illegible] Austrians [illegible] from it not by any [illegible] any [illegible] strategy but simply because they could not hold their ground against the [illegible] onslaught of the enemy.

A Base Slander and Falsehood Refuted

[illegible] letter [illegible] great part of [illegible] a tride and [illegible] [illegible] and published [illegible] Judge [illegible] Williams [illegible] of the grant for the [illegible] Rogue river [illegible] connection for the [illegible] his assistance in the matter they were striving for by offering him a large amount of stock in the enterprise but that having failed by this species of bribery to win him over to [illegible] and [illegible] announced his action as faithless and [illegible] Mr [illegible] confessing [illegible] attempt to [illegible] but failed but [illegible] that [illegible] personal friend of Williams [illegible] and took stock for him [illegible] for his (Williams') use [illegible] benefit and with his consent and knowledge. This charge was intended by Mr Pengra to be the great point he had to make against Senator Williams. Of its total untruthfulness we present proof in the following letter:

PORTLAND Aug 10 1870

EDITOR OREGONIAN

My attention has been called by Senator Williams to a paragraph in a letter lately published by Mr Pengra in the Oregon Herald in which it is stated that an arrangement was made through a friend of his by which he was to have stock in the benefit of stock in the Humboldt railroad.

I am the friend referred to and I desire to say in justice to Senator Williams that I never made any arrangement with him by which he was directly or indirectly to take or have such stock or any benefit from it nor did he and I have any understanding correspondence or conversation whatever upon that subject. I have heard Senator Williams say that he would not have stock in any railroad while he was in Congress and so far as I know or believe he never made or assented to any understanding in conflict with that declaration.

Yours &c CYRUS OLNEY

The Pengra letter was published in the Herald of July 19th. Judge Olney was then in San Francisco and did not have an opportunity to see the paper containing it till his arrival here the day before the above letter was written. This explains why we have not been able until now to present proof that Pengra's allegation was slanderous and false.

Though Judge Olney was not named as the personal friend who was alleged to have taken stock for Senator Williams with his consent and knowledge there is positive proof that he (Olney) is the person meant. The evidence of the editor of the Eugene State Journal is conclusive on this point. The Pengra letter was first offered to him for publication. He read the document and declined it. When the letter came out in the Herald a few days after he observed that some parts of it had been altered and others omitted. He had noticed when he first read it in manuscript that Judge Olney was mentioned by name as the person alleged to have the stock by agreement with Senator Williams but in the letter as published the name of Judge Olney was suppressed. It can also be proved that Mr Pengra has stated that Judge Olney was the personal friend alluded to. The Judge's letter shows how groundless the accusation against Williams was and completely meets and refutes the only point in Pengra's letter that is worthy of notice.

It may not be amiss to inquire why the name of Judge Olney which was at first inserted in this letter was suppressed? Who did it? The letter was sent to Mr Ladd of this city who (as we believe) had it re-written. Was the omission of Judge Olney's name a measure of prudence suggested by a consciousness that the charge against Senator Williams was an infamous falsehood and slander and that it would be safer to [illegible] what vague and general way with no name to support it? It would seem so. The persons who were employed in preparing this letter and who interested themselves in having it published were engaged in very reputable business indeed! These are the parties who created such a din and uproar about railroad affairs before the election and assumed the character of honorable and injured men who were working solely for the good of the State but who had been cheated and balked in their endeavors to do a great and excellent thing for Oregon! They are the parties who scorned to misrepresent anything or anybody but who were contending for the interests of the State against an unscrupulous and corrupt combination. But we pause [illegible] continuing [illegible] parties who as the above statement [illegible] we all know [illegible]

Can the Prussians Take Paris?

The cable dispatches furnish many speculations on this subject. If [illegible] believe those reports which come exclusively from Prussian sources the capture of Paris is almost certain. [illegible] this stage of the war [illegible] probable capture of Paris [illegible] yet been [illegible] forces against M [illegible] to pieces and the French [illegible] and strong line of defence [illegible] are concentrating [illegible] progress of the [illegible] of France [illegible] be cited when the whole [illegible] army in 1792 was thrown upon [illegible] Manassas which he was crushed [illegible] toma [illegible]

In [illegible] the very line [illegible] ing. The [illegible] Flanders [illegible] opponents [illegible] tempt. The [illegible] Austria followed [illegible] and the [illegible] seemed to promise [illegible] tumult [illegible] they [illegible] inferior numbers [illegible] the [illegible]

[illegible] the Herald [illegible] and [illegible] military [illegible] [illegible] the revolution may [illegible]

It will be seen by the dispatches from San Francisco that politicians of that city are somewhat [illegible] lest the [illegible] feeling between foreign born citizens [illegible] [illegible] their [illegible] [illegible] it is [illegible] brought [illegible] and the pains they are at to prevent a loss of votes.

The Herald not having very much to do and its space not being at all valuable has published a two-column article in which it tries to persuade itself that its party will elect a majority of the next House of Representatives. It is the old exercise regularly repeated for a dozen years but the result in the approaching elections will be substantially the same as heretofore. Democracy is great in counting up gains before election.

CURRENT NOTES

Malone, the assassin of Col. Buel at Fort Leavenworth, has died of the wounds inflicted in his capture. He confessed the crime, the cause of which was that Col Buel had compelled him to saw a cord of wood as a punishment for absence at roll call.

Congress at the last session appropriated $30 000 for an examination and survey under the direction of the President of the routes of Nicaragua and Tehuantepec in order to ascertain the practicability of a ship canal at these places between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. It is understood that Capt. Shufeldt will command the expedition to be fitted out in August and leave in September.

The savages in Texas are on a marauding expedition and recently encountered a body of troops and defeated them. It was discovered that the savages were armed with Spencer rifles and six shooters and that they manoeuvred with better skill than usual. If all the Indians would accept our own way of fighting moving according to specific tactics and carrying plenty of bungling traps with them we could finish them in a very few battles.

In looking over several hundred exchanges every day says the New York Tribune we cannot help seeing how largely the American press sympathizes with the Germans in their struggle against the French Emperor. Nearly all the leading journals of the country—those which control public opinion and express themselves according to their convictions—have taken ground against the pretensions of Napoleon, his aggressive designs and his policy of interference.

The Indianapolis Journal explains how Hendricks came to lose the nomination for the Presidency in 1868 at New York. At night his chances for nomination were excellent. But over night there came a frost, a killing frost, and they all died. It came from Indianapolis by telegraph and consisted of a speech delivered by Hendricks in 1862 advocating a division of the country and the secession of the Northwestern Confederacy. It cost $200 to telegraph the speech and Hendricks was a dead candidate.

The long heated term is producing increased sickness in various places in the Mississippi valley. This is especially true of many of the river towns. Cholera morbus and diarrhea are the forerunners and without extra precautions we may have an old fashioned sickly season, as these complaints are apt to end in fevers when the patient gets much debilitated. In 1843 and 1844 the [illegible] in many places located near streams and bodies of stagnant water included nearly half the population. Both years had intensely warm summers.

OREGON

Wheat and oats are nearly all out on the Waldo hills and must be well saved by this time on the prairies. We hear of one field across the river says the Salem paper which has been cut and thrashed and found to yield 7,800 bushels of wheat, an average 35½ bushels to the acre.

The Eugene Guard (Bed rock Democrat) says "the Herald is following in the footsteps of that prince of braggarts Ben Butler"—terrible rebuke to a Democrat,—and adds: "Cumbrous elephant get out of the road. We do wish the leading organ could manage to appear respectable in the estimation of the country papers belonging to its party."

[illegible] Henderson, the Deputy Marshal, in taking the census of Lane county found an interesting family the other day of which the husband was 29, the wife 18 and the oldest child [illegible] the difference between the age of the mother and child being only about twelve years. He found another family which consisted of seventeen members almost equal to Brigham's establishment.

Rather an important decision says the Statesman was rendered by Judge Kelsay at Chambers a few days since involving the constitutionality of the lien law on boats and vessels (Code of Civil Procedure, pages 68, 69). In the [illegible] Court of the State of Oregon [illegible] county [illegible] and [illegible] ker [illegible] and S E Chadwick [illegible] defendant. A general demurrer was filed [illegible] direction and [illegible] the constitutionality of the State law. [illegible] arguments by counsel at the last term of the Circuit Court for [illegible] county the matter was taken under advisement by Judge Kelsay who a few days since rendered a [illegible] at Chambers sustaining the demurrer and dismissing the suit at cost of plaintiff, virtually declaring the enacted law to be unconstitutional and void on the reason aforesaid. M Parker [illegible] tends appealing [illegible] ruling of Judge Kelsay to the Supreme Court to see if the matter will be affirmed. So we learn from a friend at [illegible]

LONDON, August 10. There is rumor here that the Prince Imperial will be sent to the French Embassy in London. Other reports assert that he has already arrived.

A dispatch from Hong Kong says that on the 21st of July the French Consulate at Canton was attacked by a rabble and the Consul was compelled to seek protection of the British flag. Foreigners generally are threatened.

LONDON, August 10. The Queen delivered a speech to Parliament from the throne to-day as follows: "My Lords and gentlemen: We continue to receive good will and fellowship from foreign powers. We have used our best endeavors to avert war between France and Prussia and shall now direct attention to strict neutrality and endeavor to check the operation of causes which might tend to enlarge the area of the conflict. We will contribute if opportunity occurs to restore an early and honorable peace. We have tendered the belligerents treaties calculated to give security to Belgium. The belligerents have since signed the treaties and other powers have been invited to accede to the arrangement."

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 10.—The war excitement is extending even into politics and promises seriously to affect the coming election. The Germans are so deeply incensed at the Irish for their avowed sympathy with the French as to alienate them in many cases from old political associations.

The nomination of Austin as Tax Collector is conceded to be the strongest that could have been made and those intending to vote the tax payers ticket generally favor its endorsement by that body.

The keepers of the principal houses of ill fame have signified to Chief Crowley a willingness to comply with the orders to keep their doors closed, curtains down and the inmates invisible to people on the streets, provided that the [illegible] who have been [illegible] are withdrawn. An informal armistice on that basis now exists.

The British ship R[illegible] cleared for Liverpool to-day with a full cargo of wheat.

Attempts are being made to squelch the movement [illegible] of the Irish for the purpose of expressing sympathy with France. The present war ground will [illegible] aggravate the ill feeling already existing between them and the Germans on this subject and affect the political situation injuriously.

The following dispatch was sent yesterday to the Minister of Foreign Affairs at Paris:

"Monsieur [illegible]: We remit you to-day a draft of 2[illegible] livres, a [illegible] to be distributed among families of the killed and wounded. THURSDAY MORNING, AUGUST 11, 1870.

CITY.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

REGULAR MEETING, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 10TH.

Present—His Honor, Mayor Goldsmith, in the chair; Councilmen Bills, Breck, Cree, Hallock and Lewis.

MESSAGES FROM THE MAYOR.

A message from the Mayor was read, returning without his approval the ordinance to provide for the mode and manner of improving Lincoln street, from Front to Fourth, for the reason that the ordinance was informal.

The question being taken, "shall the ordinance pass notwithstanding the Mayor's veto," there were Yeas, none; Nays, 5. So the ordinance was lost.

The following message from the Mayor was then received and read:

PORTLAND, August 10, 1870.

To the Honorable the Common Council—Gentlemen: I have the honor to transmit to you herewith a communication of the City Attorney, to which I would call your attention, and ask for the appointment of a special committee to investigate the same. There seems to be a clashing of interest between the County and State on one side and the City on the other, in prosecutions for criminal offenses arising out of the fact that Justices of the Peace having equal jurisdiction with the Recorder in violations of some of the city ordinances, and the fees being larger in Justices' Courts, a great many arrests are made and entered as State cases, which ought to be tried as city cases. This ought to be remedied by passing an ordinance requiring the police, under penalty of dismissal, to enter as city cases all arrests made by them for offenses within the city limits, requiring the Recorder to try all such cases as city cases, and requiring the City Attorney to be in attendance at the Police Court to prosecute all such cases in behalf of the city. Respectfully, etc.,

B. GOLDSMITH, Mayor.

On motion the message and accompanying communication from the City Attorney were referred to a special committee—Messrs. Lewis, Hallock and Cree.

PETITIONS.

A petition was received from N. Goodman and others of the Congregation Ahavia Sholum, asking the city to refund taxes paid on the block on which is situated the synagogue. Referred to Committee on Ways and Means.

A petition was received from E. Sexton, representing that certain horses had strayed from [illegible] miles distant in Washington county, and had been taken up and sold in this city by the authorities; that he had purchased the said horses from the buyers at public sale at an expense of $33 50, and asking to have that amount refunded to him. Referred.

Several applications for permits to improve certain property were received and permits granted.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

The Committee of Ways and Means—recommending the granting of the petition of R. Weeks for refunding of taxes paid on double assessment [illegible]. Adopted.

Of the same Committee—that H. L. Pittock be allowed to sign the contract for city printing in accordance with the ordinance lately passed. Report placed on file.

The Committee on Streets and Public Property—adverse to the petition for change of grade [illegible]. Adopted.

The same Committee—recommending the adoption of the resolution providing for the planting of shade trees along certain streets. Adopted.

COMMUNICATION FROM CHIEF ENGINEER.

A communication was received from the Chief Engineer, asking that provision be made for laying [illegible] in front of Engine House No. 4, and for the construction of certain adjuncts to [illegible]. Referred to Committee on Fire and Water and Chief Engineer, with instructions to [illegible].

CLAIMS AGAINST THE CITY.

The following claims were ordered paid: H. L. Pittock, advertising, $26 24. P. D. & H. Co., [illegible] covers, $4 00; Geo. Loverage, cleaning street $5 00 (referred); Geo. Fuller, building sidewalk, $3 00; Northrup & Drew, [illegible] on street contracts, $1,170 17; F. [illegible], license fee, $20.

ORDINANCES INTRODUCED.

An ordinance to provide for the time and manner of improving Lincoln street from Front to [illegible]; read three times and passed.

An ordinance to provide for the time and manner of improving Harrison street from Fifth to [illegible]; read three times and passed.

An ordinance to provide for the time and manner of improving College street from Third to [illegible]; read twice and laid over.

An ordinance to appropriate money to pay for the payment of witness' fees in the case of the contested election for councilman of the Second Ward. Read three times and passed.

RESOLUTIONS, MOTIONS, ETC.

A resolution was adopted, directing that warrants be drawn for refunding to Loeb and [illegible] taxes doubly assessed.

A resolution directing the Assessor to put down [illegible] columns on the assessment roll, the [illegible] lots and parts of lots, acres and parts [illegible], assessed. Adopted.

Resolution that notice be given of intention to [illegible] certain streets all but principal business [illegible] by planting shade trees. Adopted.

Mr. Hallock moved that the Clerk be directed to provide suitable accommodations for reporters [illegible]. Carried.

Resolution that the Auditor and Clerk have [illegible] for two weeks. Adopted.

Council then adjourned.

ILLUMINATION AND WHY.—Tuesday night, between 11 and 12 o'clock, an illumination of [illegible] buildings on Alder, near First street, was visible to dwellers afar off. Beholders thought [illegible] fire-lanterns and listened intently [illegible] "fire alarm" sounded. At one moment the whole scene was lighted up so that the [illegible] of the buildings could be counted; then a [illegible] darkness, and, again, brilliant light. [illegible] at every few seconds for a half [illegible] and then the "sweet silver light of the [illegible]" was all that shone upon Alder street. We [illegible], yesterday, that the mysterious, fitful [illegible] were caused by divers and sundry religious [illegible] Chinamen who were burning paper to [illegible] the Deity. We are pleased to announce [illegible] that "supernal" gentleman has not been seen [illegible].

ATTEMPT TO ROB IN OPEN DAYLIGHT.—A [illegible] since, at East Portland, an attempt was made by a man—name unknown—to rob [illegible] Mr. Robinson's saloon. The man had been hanging around for two or three days, [illegible] some money, and it would seem, studying [illegible] situation. On the day in question, Mr. Robinson stepped out at the door, leaving the man in the saloon, alone. He had scarcely got out [illegible] when he thought he saw, through the [illegible], the glimpse of a movement inside. Stepping immediately back, he found the man just in the act of opening the till. Robinson seized hold of him, knocked him down and gave him what he thought sufficient punishment and then let him go. The man went.

THE BLACK REPUBLICAN CHERRY AGAIN.—Who has got the Black Republican cherry? And who has got the best stock? These are questions now agitating the fruit growers of this vicinity. The following is the latest manifesto on the subject:

"August 10th, 1870.

"I see by the OREGONIAN that Mr. H. Prettyman claims the State on having the best thousand Black Republican cherry trees, one year's growth, in his nursery. I have taken him up and [illegible] will take place on the first day of September, 1870. The committee will meet at Mr. Prettyman's and thence to Willamette Nursery.

G. W. WALLING & CO."

MINERAL WATERS.—Mr. Wilhoit, proprietor of the springs of Clackamas county, has commenced bottling the waters of his springs for [illegible]. A consignment of this new article of commerce has been received at this city, and experts [illegible] it superior, as a beverage, to any of the [illegible] mineral waters, and only inferior to the [illegible] "Congress water" dipped fresh from the [illegible].

SHIPPING.—The bark Cambridge has been [illegible] to McCraken, Merrill & Co.'s wharf, [illegible] cargo for San Francisco. The ship Gorilla [illegible] been towed up to Moffett & Stephens' [illegible]. The announcement the other day that [illegible] been chartered for Hongkong, was premature. Negotiations were pending between the [illegible] and a couple of Chinese firms.

EXCESSIVE HEAT.—The country in the immediate vicinity of the fires now raging in the [illegible] is said to be immensely hot, the air seeming several degrees hotter than even in the [illegible]. It is reported that much damage is being [illegible] by the fire, notwithstanding all the precau[illegible].

CORRESPONDENCE.

The correspondence, during the period, with parties in other States and Territories amounts to six hundred and thirteen letters, received; nearly all of which have been received since the 1st of March. Only fifty-seven were received previous to that date. The rule in the office has been to attend to this correspondence promptly, either by letter or printed matter. All letters requiring an answer on any particular subject have been answered in detail as soon as practicable; others, asking merely for information of a general character, were responded to by mailing the printed matter provided for the purpose.

To advertise the State abroad, and to meet the demand for information, concerning its climate and resources, existing everywhere nearly throughout the States east of the Rocky Mountains, there have been published for circulation two pamphlets of 5,000 copies each. These have all been distributed, but about 1,830 copies of the second edition. In addition to the pamphlets, about 400 copies of "Dufur's Statistics," 500 copies of Frazar's "Weather Record" on printed slips, and as much as 500 or 600 copies of daily and weekly newspapers have been mailed to eastern correspondents and circulated in channels calculated to attract attention.

Care has been taken in circulating our publications to throw them into quarters where they could reasonably be expected to do the greatest amount of good. Copies were sent to all the leading newspapers of the East, and to a great many agricultural papers, and papers published in country towns. Quite a number of these papers have from time to time contained notices of the pamphlets, and very favorable mention of our State. In the early part of last winter I procured a directory, containing the names and address of the leading fruit-growers and nurserymen in the United States; and I went to some trouble to obtain copies of newspapers published in different parts of the Western States, from which could be gathered the names of persons in a great many different neighborhoods, as they appeared in the advertised proceedings in legal cases, and in jury lists, as well as in the regular advertising columns of the papers. By methods of this kind a list of over 2,000 names of prominent individuals were obtained, and a copy of the pamphlet mailed to each one. The Commissioner of Agriculture at Washington, in his report for May and June, publishes a very handsome notice of Oregon, and refers his readers to this office for definite information.

The Oregon has, within the last few months, been brought more prominently into notice than heretofore, is a fact due in a great measure to the efforts of this Association. Success in that particular has been as great as could reasonably have been expected.

FINANCES.

The whole number of subscriptions, during the year, in sums of ten dollars and upwards, is one hundred and ninety-seven, aggregating the sum of $2,432 25. Contributions, in sums of less than ten dollars, received from thirty-two persons, amount to $133 50. The monthly subscription list opened by the Committee at the Board of Trade meeting early in July now numbers one hundred and seventeen subscribers, and amounts to $264 00, payable monthly for six months from July 1st. The donations taken at the same time are included in the annual list reported above.

The collections made in July on the monthly list amount to $269 50. All indebtedness against the Association has been liquidated up to August 1st, except a few dollars at the Postoffice.

STATISTICS.

Circumstances have not been very favorable for the collection of statistics of the agricultural and other products of the State. The daily papers are about the only source from which anything of that kind can be obtained. Whatever information of a statistical nature could be collected from time to time has been carefully preserved, and forms the basis of the publication issued from the office.

The forthcoming report of the U. S. Marshal for this State, on the census now being taken, will afford reliable data for another edition of the Society's pamphlet, which will be needed for distribution within the next three months.

Information of vacant Government lands has been procured whenever practicable, and by every means that could be considered reliable. Good general descriptions of the Klamath and Goose Lake valleys; of Grand Ronde and other valleys in Eastern Oregon; of the Nehalem and Coquille valleys near the coast; of vacant lands in Columbia, Clatsop, Tillamook, and other counties, as well as to several districts in Washington Territory, have been obtained in various ways, and emigrants wanting lands for settlement have access to this information, often very valuable to them, although it could be made much more so if the office was provided with proper maps.

Respectfully submitted.

JNO. M. DRAKE, Secretary.

COOPERAGE.—This week a large lot of spruce timber for barrel staves and heads arrived from Astoria and was shipped to the parties at Salem. One of the coopering firms of that city has had an experienced cooper engaged nearly all summer near Astoria, in getting out this sort of stuff. The spruce of the coast range is said to be the best barrel stuff in use.

POLICE COURT, Wednesday, Aug. 10.—One case of discharging firearms within the city limits; defendant also discharged. One case of assault and battery by a female pugilist; female didn't appear; bonds confiscated. One case of mutual muss between two young men; jury trial; jury got in a muddle; couldn't agree; prisoners and jury discharged.

STRANGE PERVERSION OF A WORD.—A familiar cant word is "Hunky dory," signifying all right. An etymologist has, however, discovered that it is a corruption of the Scotch "Uncodour," which is synonymous with the Latin non compos. From the Scotch meaning of dotty it has come to signify, in English, all right—a strange perversion.

COOLED OFF.—The clerk of the weather has relented and now the atmosphere is so moderate that the ordinary thermometrical tubes are long enough for all practical purposes. The fact is the mercury is like the French—it is going back. There wasn't enough of it, anyway, to keep up to such infinite heights forever. Let us give thanks.

The New York Herald comments on the war in this rollicking way: King William of Prussia, who is seventy-three years old, and Louis Napoleon of France, who is fifteen years younger, are both going to the front. William is hale and hearty, and Louis is gouty. Betting is lively.

KILLED.—Through Mr. B. P. Cardwell, who arrived down from Eastern Oregon last evening, we learn that on the 3d inst., a man named Daniel McLaughlin, a miner, at Canyon City, was killed by a caving bank, in his mine. He had property in East Portland.

DESERTER CAUGHT.—Night before last, Frank Rexman, a deserter from the 23d U. S. Infantry, was arrested in this city by James Allen, one of the special policemen, and has since been delivered over to Lieut. Pollock, the adjutant of that regiment.

PERSONAL.—Gov. Woods arrived down from Salem yesterday, and to-day will pay an official visit to the Insane Asylum.

Judge Whittier, of the Fifth Judicial District, arrived last evening from the Dalles.

BENEFIT TO MR. VINSON.—The turn of the veteran actor, J. H. Vinson, for a benefit, will come next Tuesday evening, when he will present a new and attractive bill, and an array of the first dramatic talent of the city.

REPORTED CASE OF STABBING.—A row occurred between Chas. Love and a fair but frail one named Eliza Cassedy, about 3 o'clock yesterday morning, in which the latter was cut with a knife. Charles left town.

OUR CITIZENS certainly deserve credit, for the energy they display to make the Oregon Immigration and Labor Exchange a success and benefit to the State, as well as the immigrant coming to our State. Every citizen should give all the aid in their power to help the large number of strangers coming to our State, and not forget to inform them that Kohn & Fishel, No. 91 Front street, have the largest stock of clothing in Oregon; other goods are of superior quality and sold at extreme low prices.

LOOK AT THE RUINS!—Aye, Look at the ruins of what once were magnificent sets of teeth, to be seen everywhere in society. Look at them, and ask yourself if it is not marvellous that such destruction is permitted, when by simply using SOZODONT, ANY TEETH, HOWEVER FRAGILE, may be preserved from decay or blemish as long as life lasts.

A Better Tonic than Quinine.—Calisaya bark of the purest quality is a prominent ingredient of PLANTATION BITTERS. With it are combined the juices and extracts of a variety of aperient, anti-bilious, antispasmodic and antiseptic vegetable substances, and these properties are conserved and rendered diffusible by the pure spirit of the sugar cane, the most genial and harmless of all stimulants, but this inestimable bark is, after all, the most important medical agent contained in the Bitters.

In the various complaints for which quinine is prescribed, PLANTATION BITTERS may be given with the certainty of producing the good effects claimed by the faculty to result from the use of that dangerous alkaloid, without the fear of any subsequent evil consequences. The entire harmlessness of the Bitters is guaranteed; the testimony on this point, from the highest sources, being conclusive.

Sea Moss Farine from pure Irish Moss, for Blanc Mange, Puddings, Custards, Creams, &c., &c. The cheapest, healthiest and most delicious food in the world.

Build up the System.

Strength evaporates fast at this season. This is especially the case with all who live by the sweat of their brow. From every pore of the skin, the moisture exudes which contains the elements of vitality. Thereby the blood is impoverished, the nerves relaxed, the muscles weakened, the digestion impaired, the bowels disturbed, and the animal spirits depressed. The constant drain that produces these effects cannot be arrested, because it is due to the heat of the atmosphere, but the loss of the life-sustaining elements can be supplied by extra invigoration. Now, therefore, is the time to resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the most powerful and healthful of all vegetable tonics. Long experience has proved that nothing else will so effectually sustain and regulate the system, when writing down under the oulde pressure of excessive heat, and the constant physical or mental labor. All persons who have been tempted to try the local "tonics" (so called) which have been started by so-called speculators, in almost every town and village, with a view of "turning a penny" by the credulity of the unwary, know this to their cost. It is a wise maxim that says "hold fast to that which is good." Of the forty millions of people in the United States, probably one-fifth have tested the restorative properties of Hostetter's Bitters and know it to be a specific for dyspepsia, biliousness, nervous weakness, general debility, constipation, fever and ague and want of appetite, that any of these should be persuaded to experiment with the worthless nostrums, recommended by unscrupulous and ignorant empirics seems almost incredible.

Decision in U. S. Circuit Court.

[illegible] the Act [illegible] Donation [illegible]

A deed by [illegible] for his [illegible] against [illegible] his [illegible]

A deed by which Daniel H. [illegible] all his right, title [illegible] in block 252 in the city of Portland, only passed to the purchaser the [illegible] the premises which Daniel H. then had.

Where such deed contained a covenant to warrant and defend said lands to the purchaser, it must be construed to mean only the right, title and interest in such lands, so granted and sold by said Daniel H.; the covenants cannot enlarge the premises of a deed.

A covenant to warrant and defend the bargained premises against all persons except the United States Government or those deriving title therefrom, does not estop Daniel H. [illegible] from claiming title to an interest in the premises subsequently purchased from Isabella E. Potter, a donee of the United States.

The effect of the decree of August 12, 1865, in the suit for partition of the Nancy Lownsdale tract considered and declared as between the heirs and vendees of Daniel H. in any particular tract allotted to them according to their respective interests.

U. S. Circuit Court for the District of Oregon, Tuesday August 9, 1870.

John R. Lamb, Emma Lamb et al. vs. L. H. Wakefield et al—In Equity. Suit for partition and to apportion a lien.

This suit was commenced August 7, 1869, for partition of block 252 in the city of Portland and to apportion and provide for the payment of a certain lien thereon of $1,423 92.

On October 2, 1869, the defendants Wakefield, Connor and Corbett demurred to the bill for misjoinder of parties defendant and for multifariousness, because such defendants were not all interested in the whole premises, but only in separate and different portions of it. After argument the demurrer was overruled for the reason that as the lien for the owelty extended to the whole premises, it was necessary and proper to make all persons interested in any part of the premises defendants, and partition the whole premises in one suit, so as to enable the court to completely apportion and provide for the extinguishment of the lien aforesaid.

Afterwards on January 27, 1870, the defendants Wakefield and Connor answered the bill jointly and thereby claimed to be the sole owners of the northerly half of the premises, and the defendant Corbett answered separately, claiming to be the sole owner of the southerly half thereof. To these answers the plaintiffs filed general replications. The other defendant, being united in interest with the plaintiffs, made no defence to the bill.

On May 24, 1870, the cause was heard upon the bill, answers and replications and the testimony of the parties taken orally before the court. From these it appears:

I. That the plaintiffs John R. Lamb and Emma Lamb his wife and Ida Squires her sister are citizens of the State of Kentucky and the defendants are citizens of the State of Oregon; and that the said Ida and Emma are the daughters of Sarah M. Squires, who died prior to 1856, and that said Sarah M. was the daughter of Daniel H. Lownsdale who died, intestate May 4, 1862, and that the defendants Mary E. Cooper, J. P. O., Ruth A., and Millard O. Lownsdale are the children of said Daniel H.

II. That Daniel H. Lownsdale and Nancy his wife were settlers upon the public lands in Oregon, under the act of Congress of September 27, 1850, commonly called the Donation law, and that before March 12, 1858 and before the issuance of a patent to said settlers for said land so settled upon, said Nancy died intestate and thereupon said Daniel H. as the husband of said Nancy and William Gilliban, and Isabella Ellen Potter and Ruth A., and Millard O. Lownsdale, as the children of said Nancy, under and by virtue of section 4 of said act became seized in fee simple as tenants in common of an undivided one-fifth, each, of the west half of the land so settled upon, containing a fraction over 80 acres and including the premises in controversy and commonly called the Nancy Lownsdale tract; and afterwards on June 6, 1865 a patent to the lands so settled upon was duly issued by the United States, granting the east half thereof to said Daniel H. and the west half thereof to said Nancy, their heirs and assigns respectively.

III. That on March 12, 1858, said Daniel H., by his deed duly executed for the consideration as therein expressed of $600, "bargained, sold, assigned, transferred and conveyed to Alexander Hamilton all his right, title, interest, claim and demand either in law or equity" to the premises in controversy, described by metes and bounds as "block numbered 252," "upon the extended plat of the city of Portland," as well as the south half of block 253 on said plat. The deed contained the following and only covenant by said Daniel H.: "And I hereby guarantee to warrant and defend said lands to said Hamilton, his heirs and assigns forever, against the lawful claims of all persons except the United States Government or those claiming title from said Government;" and on January 23, 1860, Isabella Ellen Potter aforesaid and her husband, by their joint deed duly executed, among other things, "released and quit-claimed" unto said Daniel H. "all their estate, right, title and interest" in the said Nancy Lownsdale tract; and on February 14, 1860, said Daniel H., by his deed duly executed, among other things, "released and quit-claimed" unto Hannah Smith all his "right, title and interest" to two undivided fifths of the interest in said Nancy Lownsdale tract, conveyed to said Daniel H. by the deed of Isabella Ellen Potter and her husband aforesaid, and on February 23, 1869, said Hannah Smith and her husband Hiram Smith, by their joint deed duly executed, for the consideration as therein expressed of $1,065, "released and quit-claimed" unto the defendant, J. P. O. Lownsdale, all their "right, title and interest" to the aforesaid two undivided fifths of the interest in said Nancy Lownsdale tract, released to said Hannah Smith by said Daniel H. as aforesaid.

IV. That on August 12, 1865, in a suit brought for the partition of said Nancy Lownsdale tract by said William Gilliban against one William A. Abbott and others, including all the heirs of said Daniel H. and Nancy, and the parties hereto except the defendants Wakefield, Connor and Corbett, a decree for partition and the payment of owelty was duly given and entered by the Circuit Court of the State for the county of Multnomah, and that in and by said decree which remains in full force and effect, it was adjudged and determined that said Daniel H. in his life time was the owner of two undivided fifths of said tract, and that the other three fifths thereof belonged to said William Gilliban, M. E. and O. and Ruth A. Lownsdale, and that by said decree certain portions of said tract were allotted and set apart in severalty to said William, Millard O. and Ruth A., and the remainder thereof was set apart in gross to the heirs or vendees of said Daniel H. according to their respective interests therein, whatever they might be, and because of the inequality in quantity and value of such portion as between the children of Nancy Lownsdale and the heirs and vendees of said Daniel H., it was further adjudged and determined by said decree, that the portions or parcels allotted to the latter should pay to the former the gross sum of $[illegible] as owelty, to be distributed among and imposed [illegible] such parcels in proportion to their respective value, and that $1,423 92 of said [illegible] was by said decree assessed [illegible] block 252 and made a lien thereon in favor of the heirs of said Nancy aforesaid.

V. That whatever interest said Hamilton acquired in the premises in controversy by the deed of March 12, 1858 of Daniel H., has been since acquired by said Wakefield and Connor in the northerly half thereof and by said Corbett in the southerly half thereof by means of regular and sufficient conveyances from said Hamilton and his grantees to said Wakefield, Connor and Corbett, and that at the date of the partition by the decree aforesaid the interest in the premises conveyed by said Daniel H. to said Hamilton as aforesaid was owned by said Abbott as the grantee of said Hamilton, and that said Abbott or his grantee have paid to the children of said Nancy the said sum of $1,423 92 [illegible] that the premises [illegible] the terms of said decree [illegible] have a lien thereon for the repayment to them of such sum, in case they should be ejected from the premises.

VI. That the premises in controversy have been cleared of stumps and enclosed with a cheap plank or picket fence by Hamilton or those claiming under him, and since of these defendants, but that the same have not been otherwise occupied or used by them, and that in the meantime said Daniel in his life time and the defendant, J. P. O. Lownsdale, as his administrator, has had the general possession of the tract including said premises, and that the same are now worth in coin between five and six thousand dollars.

Two questions arise in this case, and have been argued by counsel.

1. What is the effect of the deed of March 12, 1858, or what interest in block 252 passed by it to Hamilton and those claiming under him—the defendants W., C. and C.; and

2. How did the partition aforesaid affect such interest, if any.

It appears from the facts stated that at the date of the execution of the deed from Daniel H. to Hamilton, the former had an individual one-fifth interest in the Nancy Lownsdale tract, including the premises described in the deed and no more. This interest he held as the direct donee of the United States. Upon the death of the wife Nancy, after the completion of the residence and cultivation and before the issuance of the patent, her share of the donation was in effect granted over by the act of her husband and children in equal parts (See Field vs. Squires, decided in this Court, Jan. 1868; Sec. 4, Donation Act).

After some dispute it has been settled that the deed of a tenant in common for a particular part of the premises held in common, although void as against his co-tenant, is good against himself (9 Ohio, 130; 12 Mass., 176). In the partition, the Court having seen proper to allot this block to the heirs and vendees of Daniel H. according to their respective interests, whatever they might be, his co-tenants at the time of making the deed are without interest in the premises, and therefore the deed is no longer void as to them, but is valid to all intents and purposes.

The granting clause of the deed only purports to convey the then right, title and interest of said Daniel H. in the premises to Hamilton. That interest was an undivided one-fifth. Any interest which Lownsdale might subsequently acquire in the premises would not be affected by a conveyance of his right, title and interest at that time. This proposition is too plain for argument, and too well settled in this court to need the citation of authorities.

Afterwards, on January 27, 1860, as has been stated, Daniel H. purchased another one-fifth interest in the Nancy Lownsdale tract from Isabella Ellen Potter, this fifth of which he subsequently conveyed to Hannah M. Smith. It follows that at the time of the partition aforesaid the grantees of Hamilton were the owners of an undivided one-fifth of block 252, and the heirs of Daniel H. and Hannah M. Smith as his grantee, were the owners of the undivided fifth purchased from Isabella Ellen Potter, unless the covenant in the deed from Daniel H. to Hamilton would bar him or those claiming under him from asserting any claim to such after acquired fifth.

The covenant is to warrant and defend such lands (block 252) to said Hamilton, etc. But by the premises of the deed only the right, title and interest of Daniel H. is bargained and sold to Hamilton. It is a well settled rule of law that the premises or granting clause of a deed may limit and control the covenants, but the covenants can never enlarge the premises. (2 Wash. R. P. 665, 12 Pick. 56; 13 Ib., 120 Field vs. Squires above cited.) This being so, the word lands in this covenant can have no other effect than the words in the premises of the deed which only describe the right, title and interest that Daniel H. then had in the land.

But there is another conclusive reason why the covenant does not affect the after acquired interest. This covenant is a special one "against the lawful claims of all persons, except the U. S. Government or those deriving title from said Government." Isabella Ellen Potter obtained this fifth as has been shown from the U. S. Government and her grantee Daniel H., and all those claiming under him as subsequent vendees or heirs, "derive their title from said Government." There can be no pretence then that this covenant applies to this after acquired fifth, or was intended to meet such a case. The parties have expressly excepted the title of the U. S. from the warranty, and this exception left Daniel H. at full liberty to acquire such title to all or any portion of the block and hold and transmit it without restraint or hindrance from this covenant.

The covenant is practically a nullity and absurdity. In any event no effect could be given to it except upon the improbable if not impossible contingency, that some person might set up a valid title to the premises other than one derived from the United States as for instance from Great Britain, Spain or France. As the parties to this deed may be safely presumed to have known that this was originally public lands of the United States, and that no valid title thereto could be derived from any other source than the United States Government, it is difficult to conjecture what was the object intended to be accomplished by this covenant. However that may be, it cannot prevent the plaintiffs from asserting their title to an interest in four-fifths of the premises, for two reasons. First, the law acting upon the reasonable presumption that a party does not warrant the title to a greater interest than he sells, will not construe this covenant as being applicable to any other or greater interest in the premises than the undivided fifth thereof then owned by the covenantor and bargained and sold to the covenantee; Second, the title now asserted by the plaintiffs to an interest in such four-fifths is derived from the United States Government and therefore expressly excepted from the operation of the covenant.—(2 John. Cases, 204; Fields vs. Squires above cited.)

As to the effect of the partition upon the interests of these parties in this block the point was conceded and decided by this court in the above cited case of Fields vs. Squires, and again in Lamb et al. vs. Lownsdale et al., decided at this term. These decisions were to the effect that the parties to the partition neither gained nor lost by it. This is a well established rule in partition, whether it be made by the decree of a court or by the mutual deeds of the parties (13 Ohio, 516). For instance the interest sold to Hamilton in block 252, being only one-fifth, it was neither increased or diminished by the partition. The other four-fifths of the block belonged to the heirs of Daniel H. and Hannah M. Smith and the children of Nancy. Three fifths to the latter. By partition the children of Nancy were divested of their three fifths interest in this and other parcels of the tract and this three fifths was by the same means vested in the heirs of Daniel H., in exchange for the two fifth interest of such heirs in the parcels allotted by the decree to the children of Nancy. In this exchange the grantees of Hamilton contributed nothing and took nothing by it. But this partition being unequal as to quantity and value, owelty was given by the decree to Nancy's children as a compensation for such inequality. For the purpose of protecting their individual interests from being sold to pay this owelty, these defendants or those under whom they claim have voluntarily paid the same. By making the payment [illegible] [illegible] made to repay the debt [illegible] four fifths of this owelty with interest, or continue their lien for it.

A decree will be entered, to the effect, that the plaintiffs and defendants are seized in fee simple of the premises as tenants in common and that the interest therein of Emma and Ida aforesaid is 84-1250 each and that the interest therein of said J. P. O. Lownsdale is 328-1250, and that the interest therein of said Mary E. Cooper and Millard O., and Ruth A. Lownsdale is 168-1250 each, and that the interest in the northerly half thereof of said Wakefield and Connor is 125-1250 each, and that the interest in the southerly half thereof of said Corbett is 250-1250, and that three commissioners to be named by the parties or by the Court be appointed to partition the premises among the tenants to ascertain and report to the Court whether it is practicable so to partition the premises, and whether or not it would be best to sell the premises and apportion the proceeds among the tenants after satisfying the liens thereon, or that the premises should be apportioned as between these defendants and their co-tenants, and that the premises be so partitioned and [illegible] [illegible] that said [illegible] [illegible] be divided between them and the plaintiffs and the defendants in proportion to the interests [illegible] aforesaid [illegible] of the [illegible] amount thereof paid by the [illegible] to be referred to the Clerk of the Court as special master to take an account between these defendants and their co-tenants as to the value of permanent improvements made thereon and taxes paid, if any, by the former.

CITY ADVERTISEMENTS.

Ordinance No. 884.

An ordinance to provide for the time and manner of improving that part of Eighth street lying between Stark and Jefferson streets.

The City of Portland does ordain as follows:

Section 1. The improvement of that part of Eighth street lying between the south side of Stark street and the center of Jefferson street shall be completed as hereinafter provided, on or before the first day of October, 1870.

Section 2. The surface of the street shall be cleared of all plank, timbers or other obstacles or perishable materials (sidewalks, crosswalks and plank roadways of the proper width and grade excepted). If the obstructions are not removed by the owners of the adjacent lots within three days from the service of notice by the Street Commissioner they shall be removed by and become the property of the contractor.

Section 3. The improvement shall consist of grading, laying sidewalks and crosswalks together with plank gutters wherever the Committee on Streets and Public Property and the City Surveyor may direct.

Section 4. The work to be done and materials furnished shall correspond with the provisions of and under the restrictions contained in Sections 6, 7, 8, 9, 11 and 12 of Ordinance No. 793, entitled "an Ordinance in relation to the improvement of streets."

Section 5. The Contractor shall take entire charge of the work during its progress and shall be responsible for any loss or accident occasioned by carelessness or neglect.

Section 6. The Committee on Streets and Public Property are hereby authorized to advertise for proposals, receive bids and enter into contract with the lowest responsible bidder or bidders for the improvement specified in this ordinance.

Section 7. The improvement shall be completed to the satisfaction of the Committee on Streets and Public Property and the Street Commissioner.

Passed the Common Council August 3, 1870.

W. S. CALDWELL,
Auditor and Clerk.

Approved August 5, 1870.
B. GOLDSMITH, Mayor.
